The dimension of a vector space is the number of vectors in any basis for the space, i.e. the number of coordinates necessary to specify any vector. This notion of dimension (the cardinality of a basis) is often referred to as the Hamel dimension or algebraic dimension to distinguish it from other notions of dimension.. For the non-free case, this generalizes to the notion of the length of a ...

Background. The study of homotopy groups of spheres builds on a great deal of background material, here briefly reviewed. Algebraic topology provides the larger context, itself built on topology and abstract algebra, with homotopy groups as a basic example.. n-sphere. An ordinary sphere in three-dimensional space "the surface, not the solid ball " is just one example of what a sphere ...
